Shalom. I am a teacher of Bible at The Master's College, Israel Bible Extension campus, near Jerusalem. Recently in our chapel we had the pleasure of hearing Tom Meyer recite the entire Book of Revelation from memory. It was a blessed evening. The students paid close attention throughout the hour that it took Tom to recite the book. I found myself as well paying closer attention to the recitation in comparison to if the words had simply been read. I think this was in part due to the fact that I was amazed that this was all being done from memory, and also to the (voice, face and body) dramatization that accompanied Tom's recitation. Words, phrases, concepts and themes of the book were "jumping out" at me while listening. My 14, 12 and 10 year-old children were present. I could tell that they too were following Tom. Later that evening and in the next days following, both my kids and the college-aged students expressed positive comments about what they heard and remembered. One student commented: "We should have him come for chapel every week."

I highly recommend a scripture recitation from Tom or one of the other staff members of Word Sowers. Churches, Sunday schools, colleges and Christian schools could all benefit from this meditation on His Word.

Sincerely,

William Schlegel
