

To whom it may concern:

God's Word teaches that all Scripture is given by inspiration of God and is living and active in our lives. While heaven and earth may pass away, His Word is eternal. One of my favorite passages is in Paul's letter to the Colossians in which he encourages them to let the Word of Christ dwell in you richly. I can think of no better example than that of Tom Meyer. He not only has hidden the Word in his mind, but in his heart. As we, at Millers Creek Baptist, had opportunity to have Tom and his wife in our church, I saw a desire to allow God's perfect Word not only fill his mind, but his daily living. I believe that Scripture is accomplishing something mighty in his life and marriage. It must, for God promises His Word will not return to us void.

The Psalmist wrote "Your statutes are my heritage forever... They are the joy of my heart... "Oh, how I love your law! I meditate on it all day long." It is my prayer that God would continue to use Tom & Sarah to share not only His Word from memory, but the joy the Word imparts and that the Holy Spirit would use them to challenge the body of Christ, His church, to truly be a people of the Book. Joshua challenged the people of Israel "Do not let this Book... depart from your mouth...meditate on it day and night so that you may be careful to do everything written in it." What a great example to families the Meyers were as God used them to encourage us to not be hearers only, but obedient doers of the Word.

Scripture is invaluable to us in our warfare against sin. "Thy Word have I hid in mine heart that I might not sin against Thee." It should be our daily prayer to God, "Direct my footsteps according to your Word...Let no sin rule over me." It is important not only for holiness, but for parents as we raise our children to follow God..."These commandments... are to be upon your hearts...Impress them upon your children." May God use Tom for His sovereign purposes as He draws churches and families close to His heart and close to His Word.

God bless,
