

Dear Mr. Stewart:

Thank you for your letter to President Bush inviting him to meet with you and a delegation from Morehouse College in Washington, DC.

Your words of support and encouragement are of great motivation to the President as he continues to serve as the leader of our country. The challenges of the 21st century are many, but with the continued resolve and cooperation of all citizens, the President believes we can successfully preserve the freedom and economic values that we hold so dear.

Your request has been given every consideration. Unfortunately, due to scheduling commitments, we are unable to accommodate your request. President Bush very much appreciates his supporters, and it is of great encouragement for others to be able to meet with him.

Thank you again for writing. The President wishes his best wishes.

Sincerely,

George W. Bush
President of the United States and Director of Appointments and Scheduling
